

BAILEY PLANS TO STAY IN POLITICS

Texan Has No Idea of Getting Away From Public Life.

Washington, January 25.—At the White House to-day, where ex-Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, called to see President Taft, Mr. Bailey said that he by no means proposed to drop out of politics or cease to mingle with the people of his own State in matters affecting their welfare.

"I expect to continue my legal work in the future to the United States Supreme Court," said Mr. Bailey, "making only as many cases as I feel I can handle with satisfaction to myself and justice to my clients."

Mr. Bailey said that he is remaining in Washington to clear his own odds and ends for friends and former constituents. Although out of public life, these friends wanted him to look after the errands for them, and he proposed to do so.

"But I determined absolutely, when I arranged to leave the Senate, that I would never do any work before the departments in Washington or at the Capitol for money," said Mr. Bailey, "now is merely for those who have been close friends of mine. I detect this sort of work, but it is a pleasure to do a friendly act for those who think something of you. Nothing would induce me to hang around Washington and undertake to affect legislative matters at the Capitol. This business of lobbying gives me the shivers. I am off for the great old State of Texas just as soon as I can clean up the business entrusted to me by friends."

Sanders at White House.

Senator Sanders, of Tennessee, whose successor was elected yesterday by the Tennessee Legislature, was with President Taft to-day. Friends of the Tennessee Senator said to-day that he would be elected to fill out the unexpired term, believing that his services in the Senate and to his party in State and national affairs warranted it. Senator Sanders said to-day that he is delighted that Prof. W. T. Webb, his personal friend, would take his place. While Prof. Webb is to serve only until March 4, and would naturally be expected to come here at once to take the oath, it is understood to-day that he will remain away from the Senate until after February 10, that he may give Senator Sanders a chance to vote on the Kenyon-Sanders bill prohibiting the shipment of liquors into prohibition territory.

Senator Sanders has pushed this bill ever since he has been in the Senate and the time for a vote has been set for February 10. Immediately after that vote Prof. Webb will take the oath as successor to Senator Sanders, according to the present program.

Hill's Luncheon Host.

Secretary Hill gave a luncheon this afternoon at the Metropolitan Club, in honor of Edmund Dwight, of New York. President Taft was one of the twenty guests. Among the others were Charles MacVeagh and Stinson, Senator Crane and Corcoran Thom.

Senator Mark Smith, of Arizona, talked to the President to-day about the customs reorganization plans so far as they affect Nogales. The Arizona Senator said that Nogales was becoming more important each day as a customs port, and he thought a big mistake would be made if the port was consolidated with some other. President Taft to-day received the following cablegram from King Alfonso, of Spain, in response to a birthday greeting: "Please accept the expression of my deep gratitude for your kind wishes and good wishes, which I warmly reciprocate to you and to the American people."

DISCARDED SUITOR FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING GIRL

Harrison, Ark., January 25.—Oduis Davidson, twenty-nine years old, charged with the killing of Miss Ella Barham, eighteen, was found guilty to-night of murder in the District Court here. Sentence was deferred.

Miss Barham's dismembered body was found November 21. Posses were organized, and hundreds of men, including Davidson, searched for her slayer. Suspicion finally centered on Davidson, who, in the preliminary investigation, was a discarded suitor of the girl. He was arrested, threatened with mob violence, and finally was removed here for safe keeping. His indictment, trial and conviction followed.

Lung Trouble Yielded To This Medicine

Consumption is a flattering disease—that one of its chief dangers. Those who have it are rarely willing to acknowledge the fact. If this trouble is present, it is no trifling matter. If a so-called "cure" has long persisted; if a cough is present that keeps you anxious, or any of the symptoms are present, such as fever, night sweats, weakness and loss of appetite, and perhaps some raising of mucus—do the sensible thing—take Eckman's Alternative—as Mr. Bettendorf did.

"Bowling Green, Ky., R. No. 4.

"Gentlemen—I wish to say for your Alternative is the best medicine I have used of unequalled value for all Bronchial and Lung trouble. The Spring of 1911 I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my doctors recommended to me, but no results came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit until I could hardly do anything. But, at last, James Deering, of Glasgow Junction, insisted that I try your medicine. In two weeks' time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles, I felt as well as ever in my life.

"I desire the word to know that I firmly believe that your Eckman's Alternative is the best medicine I have used for the last stage. I will gladly write personally to any party wanting information in regard to your wonderful medicine."

(Signed) A. C. BETTENDORF.

TAFT REFUSES TO DISMISS SUIT

Declines to Listen to Pleas of So-Called "Bathtub Trust."

Washington, January 25.—President Taft to-day refused to dismiss the criminal antitrust suit against the so-called "bathtub trust." He was requested to terminate the proceedings by Herbert Noble and Harry M. Daugherty, of counsel for the defendants, on the ground that the combination had been dissolved.

The President stood squarely behind Attorney-General Wickham and Edwin P. Grosvenor, special assistant to the Attorney-General, in immediate charge of the case, who previously had decided to consent to quashing the proceedings. The Attorney-General has been constant in holding the case at Detroit since February 2. He will accept no pleas on behalf of the defendants, it is said, except pleas of guilty.

The attorneys appealed from the Attorney-General's opinion to the President, who discussed the entire situation to-day with Messrs. Wickham, Grosvenor, Noble and Daugherty. The combination complained of in the indictment was to restrain trade, and was terminated in January, 1911, shortly after the indictments were returned. The civil suits against the alleged trust recently was decided by the Supreme Court in favor of the government.

GAMBLING HOUSE TAKEN BY FORCE

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

New York, January 25.—Carpenters at work fitting up a house at 5 Stuyvesant Street as if to prepare the place for a siege attracted the notice of the police of the Fifth Street Station a few weeks ago. Captain Rohrig, who commands in that precinct, borrowed two Bremen Friday, and the Bremen demanded entrance at the Stuyvesant house on pretext of making an inspection. What the Bremen saw, however, was sufficient to move Magistrate Barlow to grant a warrant early this morning charging Alfred Levy, of 18 Seventh Street, with maintaining a public nuisance, and armed with this warrant the police moved to the attack this afternoon. They took with them a heavy artillery of crow-bars, axes and sledges, and they were needed.

It was just one hour after the assault began that the police succeeded in carrying the place. The police found themselves in a large room, in which sixty men sat or stood looking passively at a handsome framed charter granted in 1912 to the Amity Club. There was no gambling apparatus in sight, and the men seemed quite undisturbed.

The police found sets of dice and a crap table, racing charts and several telephones in another room. Having found these things, the police picked out Mr. Levy and took him and the things they found.

Report Adopted by House.

Washington, January 25.—The conference report on the Burnett-Dillingham immigration bill was adopted by the House to-day, 106 to 71. As approved, it prescribes a reading test for immigrants. The clause providing that immigrants from countries which issue "character certificates" must present such certificates before being admitted, was stricken from the bill. The report now goes to the Senate.

The President Stood Squarely Behind Attorney-General Wickham and Edwin P. Grosvenor, special assistant to the Attorney-General, in immediate charge of the case, who previously had decided to consent to quashing the proceedings.

CONGRESSMEN DEBATE

Contest Arranged Between V. P. I. and Roanoke College for April 4.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Salem, Va., January 25.—For the first time in the history of the two institutions arrangements have been made for a debate between the Cleverly Literary Society of Roanoke College, and a team selected from members of the Maury and the Lee Literary Societies of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, of Blacksburg. A question that is now challenging the attention of the ablest political minds of the nation has been chosen. It is, "Resolved, That the United States should regulate the tolls on shipping passing through the Panama Canal as to allow a preference to American vessels."

In view of the approaching debate, a primary debate was held in the Cleverly Hall of the Roanoke College last Saturday night to select the three best debaters out of a number of eight of the ablest debaters of the society. The Cleverlyans, who will maintain the affirmative are C. T. Herndon, Salem; J. L. Yost, Martinsburg; N. C. and S. W. Hirtle, Darrmouth, Nova Scotia. The men who will represent the literary societies of V. P. I. will be announced later. The debate will take place at Roanoke College on April 4.

The local chapter of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association, a student organization for promoting in a broad way the study of the liquor question, completed its organization early in January with D. L. Sheritz, of Roanoke, as president, and has held two of its regular meetings. The first paper, "Is Prohibition Successful?" was presented by Mr. Sheritz. H. F. Davis presented the second paper on "The Business Argument." The subject for the next meeting is "Local Option," led by S. W. Hirtle.

During the past two weeks President J. A. Morehead has been giving at a series of short talks on the claims of the various professions to the college man.

WEST SIDE TERRORIZED BY DESPERATE GANG

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

New York, January 25.—A gang of desperate men terrorized the West Side to-night under the noses of policemen by holding up two saloons in wild west style at the point of ugly looking guns and getting away with several hundreds of dollars.

About 7:15 o'clock three men entered Henry Holsten's cafe on the south corner of Twenty-fifth Street and Thirteenth Avenue. One advanced to the bar and said: "Arise, gentlemen, and stand with your faces to the wall."

The customers did as they were bid, being confronted with a revolver. The second man searched the pockets of the customers and the third man emptied the till. Then the trio, covering all the men with their revolvers, backed out to the sidewalk and disappeared.

"Human Bomb" Convicted.

Los Angeles, Cal., January 25.—Carl Reidelbach, the "human bomb," who terrorized the central police station several months ago when he entered carrying an internal machine and announced that he intended to blow everything into "Kingdom-come," was convicted to-day on the charge of having deposited dynamite in an inhabited place.

PLEADS GUILTY, GETS SIX YEARS

Fresno, Cal., January 25.—William J. Reid, of Chicago, alias J. P. Croft, who confessed last night that he has confessed to pass a forged check for $14,830 on the First National Bank of San Francisco, pleaded guilty to a forgery charge to-day and was sentenced to six years in Folsom prison. When arrested Reid was wearing a wig, false whiskers and two suits of clothes.

Not Sure of Identity.

William J. Reid, president of the National Automobile Protective Association. Employees of the office said to-day that they were not positive it was their employer who was sent to prison. W. J. Reid left here for California December 14.

INVESTIGATION ENDS.

Findings in Steamboat Inquiry Not Yet Made Public.

Norfolk, Va., January 25.—Steamboat Inspectors Capley and Bray to-day concluded their investigation into the collision of the steamship Indiana, of the Chesapeake and Potomac, which resulted in the loss of the latter, with the lives of fifteen persons. It has not been announced when the findings will be made public. The investigation was secret.

RIGID QUARANTINE AGAINST MENINGITIS

Montgomery, Ala., January 25.—Montgomery health authorities are organizing a rigid quarantine against cerebro spinal meningitis, three cases having been found here. Only one death has resulted from the disease.

The police station was placed under quarantine to-day when a negro, arrested Friday night for drunkenness, was found with a severe case.

Later this afternoon the entire police and detective departments were moved to the county jail, while a guard was placed at the city prison to maintain a quarantine over the dozen prisoners and patients held there.

NEEDY FAMILY WINS PARDON FROM TAFT

Washington, January 25.—A large family, including several children, need of support, moved President Taft to-day to commute, to expire at once, the sentence of Mariano F. Sena, convicted at Santa Fe, N. M., May 5, 1912, of forging and uttering false certificates in connection with census enumerators vouchers. Sena's original sentence of four years and four days was previously commuted by the President to one year and one day. It is now terminated entirely. Sena is said not to have profited by his act.

PAVLOVA'S GREAT TOE WORTH $6,000 WEEKLY

ing. If any duty rest upon the Bar Association of New York it is to see that the legal and natural rights of every human being, including Thaw, are preserved, instead of being hindered or denied.

Estimate Crops Out in Suit of Partners in Theatrical Profession.

New York, January 25.—What's the price of a toe? Apparently it depends largely upon the owner thereof. Tom Sawyer's being sore, guaranteed the nobility whitewashing of a fence; Anna Pavlova's, being the pivot of her fortunes, is said to be worth $6,000 a week. It all depends apparently, upon the point of view, and the Russian dancer, it would seem, has the ultimate advantage.

Like many another thing worth while, the value of the Pavlova toe never would have become public property had not Ben H. Atwell, theatrical producer, and his partner, Max Rabinoff, clashed in the Supreme Court yesterday. The Pavlova toe estimate appeared in the schedules of the plaintiff, Rabinoff, asking that the latter be enjoined from using the American rights of the farce, "Les Saptimbanques"; also that he be prevented from in any way using the partner ship for profit from the work of Cantor Sirotka, the Russian singer, and the dancing of Anna Pavlova.

Atwell asked that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the affairs of the partnership until the litigation be determined. Justice Ames, after reading evidence submitted in affidavits, refused to appoint the receiver. The justice, however, handed down a decision saying that he would permit an order to be submitted after reading evidence submitted in affidavits, refused to appoint the receiver. The justice, however, handed down a decision saying that he would permit an order to be submitted after reading evidence submitted in affidavits, refused to appoint the receiver.

The justice also decided that Rabinoff could submit a proper bond for the amount agreed upon between the partners, as surety that no damage would come to Atwell in the meantime. Providing this bond, the justice said it could be arranged to vacate the temporary stay which now keeps Rabinoff from in any manner using the contracts of the firm which give the partners the management of the actors and production mentioned.

An affidavit submitted by Atwell related in part a conversation between the partners in London, the gist of which was that Rabinoff was endeavoring to purchase the Oscar Hammerstein Opera House in London, also that Rabinoff was negotiating to manage Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree in a tour of the United States and Canada in the seasons of 1913-14. Atwell also complained that papers bearing on the suit were taken from his trunk while he was stopping at the home of Rabinoff in London.

MRS. THAW SPEAKS FOR SON.

Protests Bar Association's Plan to Restrict Habeas Corpus Act.

Pittsburgh, January 25.—Mrs. Mary S. Copley Thaw, mother of Harry K. Thaw, fearful that the New York State Bar Association will recommend to the Legislature this year that the use of the writ habeas corpus for criminal insanity be limited, has sent a letter to the Bar Association protesting against such action.

Mrs. Thaw encloses a letter from Horace Boies, ex-Governor of Iowa, in which he says:

"The openly avowed purpose of this movement is an effort to shut the doors of the courts against one particular individual, Harry K. Thaw. What I want to see for this man is a fair and impartial trial of the only question that has not already been settled, the present condition of his mind. I know he has had one trial of that question, but there are circumstances that reasonably compel the fear that it was not in all respects a fair and impartial hearing."

Stomach Misery and Indigestion Disappear

"My. How I Did Suffer, but Now I'm Happy All Day Long and Sleep Fine."

That's what a woman said just a few months ago. She said more, and here it is: "I wish it lay within my power to persuade every woman sufferer from dyspepsia or indigestion (or whatever they may think their stomach trouble is) to give MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets one week's fair trial. I am sure that every one of them would thank me from the bottom of her heart."

"I am well and happy for the first time in years, and I do not hesitate to give MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets all the credit. Follow this advice. Give MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets a week's trial; if they do not benefit, the cost will be returned—50 cents."

"My wife had been troubled with indigestion for nearly to years. After eating she would always suffer terrible distress. She was sick and weak and not able to do her work properly. She took two boxes of MI-O-NA tablets and is now perfectly well and able to do her work without any distress."—F. M. Brown, R. F. D. No. 75, Titusville, Pa.
